

ENLI PRIVACY POLICY

Enli understands the importance of respecting the privacy and confidentiality of Personally Identifiable Information (PII) including personal health information. Enli provides applications and services that give healthcare providers secure, electronic access to personal health information that improves outcomes for patients.

Only authorized providers and users are allowed to view personal health information.

Enli has implemented appropriate privacy safeguards to prevent unlawful use or disclosure of PII. Enli has implemented administrative, physical, and technical security safeguards that reasonably and appropriately protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the electronic PII that it receives, maintains, or transmits.

Enli may de-identify personal health information so that it does not identify individuals, and we may use de-identified health information to improve our applications or for other business purposes.

Enli will not sell or otherwise distribute PII to any entity.

ENFORCEMENT OF THIS PRIVACY POLICY
